They went with songs to the battle, they were young,
Straight of limb, true of eye, steady and aglow.
They were staunch to the end against odds uncounted,
They fell with their faces to the foe.
They shall grow not old, as we that are left grow old:
Age shall not weary them, nor the years condemn.
At the going down of the sun and in the morning
We will remember them.

Foreword

AS a graduate of Central High School I always derive great pleasure from looking back on the wonderful days and the many fine friends associated with our school. Back in 1933 a number of the graduating class decided that in ten years time we would organize a meeting of as many students of this period as possible. However, the War intervened and 1943 found the graduating students of 1933 scattered throughout the world.

Yet, the idea of the reunion did not die; the end of the War and the return home of many former graduates resulted in the completion of the plans for our meeting which were projected back in 1933. It was held on the premises of a former graduate within two blocks of our school on the night of March 22, 1946, and over thirty-five were in attendance. Naturally, many were missing, but they were not forgotten, and the spirit of Central never ran higher than on this memorable occasion. Our experiences had been varied and interesting; many difficulties had been encountered during those thirteen years, but we all agreed that the associations made, and the training received during our High School years had done much toward seeing us through the latter years of a very trying depression and on through the hard period of War. We look forward to the future with optimism and would like to pass on to the present graduating class our sincere wishes for success and happiness.

In conclusion may I suggest that you also organize a meeting for the years to come. Then only, will you realize fully how broad an influence the time spent at Central and the friendships formed there have had, and will continue to have, on your lives.

—F. L. THIRLWELL.

Valedictory

AS we come to the end of this narrow path that as led us through our childhood, youth, and now onto the threshold of manhood and womanhood, we would stop and turn. It seems we have been walking too quickly. The joys we have known were too short, we have not had time to enjoy them. Let us turn and gaze at our yesteryear. We swallow hard as we think of our school years, of the happy times we had in these, our halls. Our halls, but wait, no more will they be our halls in quite the same way. We must pass on and let others fill the places and come to know the pleasures we have known.

We cannot look back very long. Our ways lead to the future. The Future! Such a mysterious word and with such a mighty significance. We cannot even guess what it has in store for us, but our hopes are high. We have received a firm grounding in these halls and we look to tomorrow with confidence.

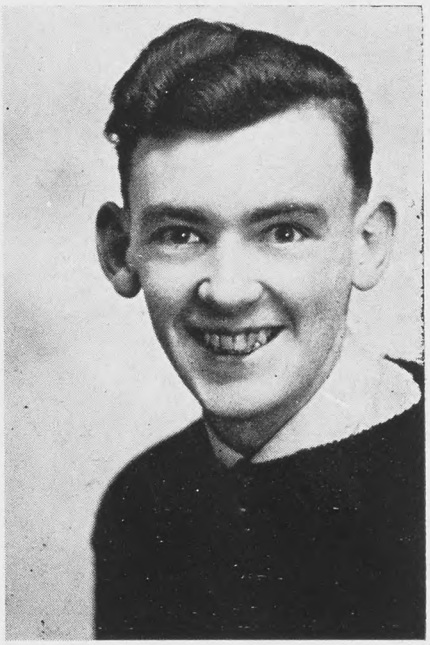

The road ahead is wider than the one we have just trod. It branches out into every corner of the earth, and we will be intermingled with all the peoples of the earth. There are more joys in the path ahead but also more obstacles. We shall be freer, masters of our own actions, but there will also be greater responsibilities. I truly hope that wherever we may go we will always remember our school friends and the fun and happiness we shared. So with that in mind we are not really saying farewell as we will always hold these friendships in our hearts.

I know I speak for every student when I thank the teachers for all the guidance and kindness they have shown us in the past years. And to those who will come after us, "May our errors be your gain, and your gains will be our pride."

Now we must move on. The road ahead is beckoning and we must answer its bidding and strive to do our best. Good luck and Farewell, but not Good-bye.

—JANE EGLESTON.

Valedictory

THERE is a note of sadness in our voices and an empty feeling in our hearts as we, the graduating class of 1946, say good-bye, and pass along these halls for the last few times. We are rather happy to feel we are progressing in life, but at the same time very loath to break away. Three years ago we entered this institute of higher learning with no small amount of self esteem and with the opinion that, as Junior High School graduates, we possessed a considerable wealth of knowledge. By the end of the first week however, we were impressed with the idea that there remained much more to be learned if we cared to take an interest in work as well as in social functions. Today we find ourselves with a more extensive and reinforced foundation on which to build our lives.

To the staff of instructors go our deep gratitude and profound appreciation for their tireless efforts to teach us more of the academic fundamentals and fine points of character. They have improved not only our mental functions but have shown us the meaning of fair play, hard work and responsibility. It takes us a long time to realize that theirs is a thankless task, for it is not until we have their influence that we find the true value of their endeavour.

On the playing field and in the class room we have come in contact with that fine spirit of comradeship which reigns in this school and which, for us, manifests itself here, tonight. As the first year passed we saw this spirit evident in the older pupils and gradually we came to acquire it, too. As we go on our divergent paths, we will always hold dear the associations we have made in this school. Especially when the road is darkened and threatened by storms and strife, will we recall the kindness we experienced in Central.

We stand on the threshold of adventure in life, capable of shouldering responsibility and able to think more deeply than we are perhaps credited. Some, desirous of acquiring more knowledge, may enter University. Others will go at once into the business world. Never was the future more uncertain as it flings its challenge to us. We have before us the accomplishments, the high endeavours, the noble sacrifices of graduates of other years to beckon us forward. Because of those who gave up life for us, and others who spent in years of war their hopes for a bright future, we, who follow, dedicate a valedictory to world peace. In the years that lie ahead of us, we shall not forget the debt to those valiant souls, and to you—Central!

—BOB KENNEDY.

In Appreciation

THE end of a school term—the completion of another Year Book.

The endeavour of the Analecta Staff this year was to produce a Year Book which would live up to the expectations of you, the students, of Central High. If we have managed to create a Year Book which attains the standard set up by preceding editions and one in which every student finds satisfaction in a clear and concise record of activities of the so-recently concluded school year, we have succeeded.

The Year Book, however, could not have been completed had it not been for the untiring aid, advice and judgment of Mr. Weir and the assistance of Miss Kaulbach. To these two, I tender my deepest thanks. I would also like to take this opportunity to show my appreciation to the 1946 Analecta Staff for their splendid co-operation during the publication of this Analecta, and to each and every student without whose contribution, however small, the Analecta would have been a failure.

This year is the first year in six years in which the Analecta has been published during peacetime conditions. The war has been won but not the peace. Therefore, I dedicate the 1946 Analecta to a "Victory of Peace" knowing that now, Centralites will go into the world with new hope and new faith and will align themselves with their brothers from all other countries to bring about a successful end to this endeavour.

In conclusion I would like, on behalf of the Analecta Staff, to wish the best of luck to the graduating class of today, the citizens of tomorrow.

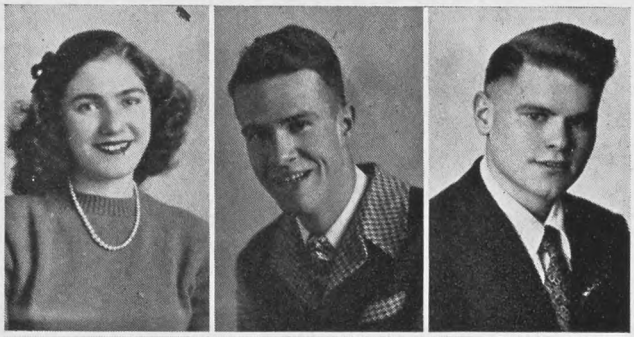

—E. H. WHEATLEY.

G. J. McAdam

FROM THE halls of Central this past year have departed two members of the faculty who are greatly missed by the students, namely, Mr. W. W. Scott and Mr. G. J. McAdam.

Mr. Scott has locked the drawers of his desk, set aside his books, laid down his test tubes, and now enjoys life to the fullest on a mink ranch close to Calgary. This is the termination of a long road, as the teaching career of Mr. Scott began in Ontario after he graduated from Queen's University with a B.A. from whence the course of his profession led him west to Stettler where he was Principal of the High School for a number of years, later to Calgary to Central, and here through twenty-nine years of service, he has taught Mathematics, Composition, Physics, Biology and Chemistry. The fame of Mr. Scott is not widely known, in fact it is obscure. To many, he is just another teacher, another exponent of education who gave notes, and set exams, but in reality Mr. Scott was the key, the driving force behind many brilliant chemical careers of today. From Centralites of this year and yester-year, go our deepest thanks and best wishes to Mr. Scott.

We wish to welcome as a replacement for Mr. Scott on our staff, Mr. W. H. Brooks, a Calgary graduate of the University of Alberta with B.Sc. and B.Ed. degrees, who has taught in several of Calgary's schools. Greatly interested in sports, especially boxing and track, Mr. Brooks has already fitted into the smooth-running athletic machinery of Central as an invaluable cog giving Mr. Hackett much time and assistance.

Mr. McAdam, now retired at the coast, was born in New Brunswick and graduated from the University of that Province before taking post-graduate work at Harvard. He came to us holding B.A. and M.A. degrees after teaching at Andover Grammar School, Okanagan College, several Vancouver schools and East Calgary High School. Mr. McAdam will be remembered mostly for Biology and Geology, which he taught at Central for many years.

In the place of Mr. McAdam we welcome a former Centralite and previous Editor of the "Analecta", Mr. H. J. Robertson. Mr. Robertson is a graduate of the University of Alberta with B.Sc. and M.Sc. degrees. He has taught at a number of Calgary schools and prior to becoming a member of our faculty was an Educational Officer in the R.C.A.F.

Students' Council—1945-46

The committee appointed to organize the Council of 1945-46 succeeded in doing so early in the school term. After a hotly contested election for President, the Council activities were well under way by the beginning of November.

The Executive for the year was:

Hon. President	Mr. F. D. Weir
Hon. Vice-President	Mr. W. G. E. Pulleyblank
President	Pete Simon
Vice-President	Lois Greenfield
Secretary	Betty Fairbairn
Treasurer	Pete Lougheed

Among the activities for the year were the purchasing of uniforms for the Junior Basketball teams and a very successful exhibition basketball game and dance called the "Basketball Preview", held on December 14th. A twenty-five dollar grant was made to the Home and School Association to help defray their expenses in connection with the Graduation Dance. The annual awarding of Letters was made to students who were outstanding in school activities throughout the year.

The C.C.I. Weeper

For the past sixteen years, the C.C.I. "Weeper" has endeavoured to furnish the students of Central High School with up-to-the-minute news.

This year, the Weeper published seven issues and had a circulation of 475. It exchanged with six other schools.

The highlight of the paper this year seemed to be the Personality Column written by Sylvia Chernoff—also the Tid-bits and Chatter Column edited by Sharon Sprung.

Columns by Doreen Burrows, Blake Lilly and Dave Aird added to the paper's interest.

Thanks to Mr. William Jones for his kind assistance as Literary Advisor.

Dances

FRESHMAN'S FRIDAY . . .

This year, for the second time, the Boys' Hi-Y sponsored the first dance of the season, "Freshman's Friday", on November 30th. Baldy Tomlinson, although he forgot his pants, made an excellent M.C. The highlight of the evening was the act of "The Shooting of Dan McGrew" during which the Hi-Y boys produced some wonderful chorus girl ability.

Following this exhibition of talent (?) everyone got together and danced.

BASKETBALL PREVIEW . . .

One of the first activities of the Students' Council was the presentation of the "Basketball Preview" to give the students a chance to see their interscholastic teams in action before the schedules got under way. Thus, on Friday, Dcember 14th, at 8 o'clock, Mr. Hackett introduced the members of both Senior and Junior teams. Soon both teams were battling it out in an exhibition game, the final score being 64-56 in favor of the Juniors who were spotted 40 points.

Although everyone seemed to have yelled themselves out during the game, they still mustered energy from somewhere to enjoy the dancing which followed. Pete Simon acted as M.C. and the dance was acclaimed a success by everyone.

ANALECTA SHAG . . .

Thursday, January 24th, was the date of the annual "Analecta Shag". Although the crowd was rather small, a good time was had by all those present. Betty Fairbairn, Assistant Editor of the Analecta, acted as Mistress of Ceremonies.

BASKET BALL . . .

On Friday, May 10th, the Senior Girls' Hi-Y entertained Central's Interscholastic Basketball Teams at the "Basket Ball". The dance was well attended and considered a great success. Jeanne Adams, the President of the Hi-Y, was Mistress of Ceremonies.

GRADUATION DANCE . . .

The graduating class and their friends were entertained by the Home and School Association at the "Graduation Dance", held on Friday, June 14th in the school auditorium. The music was supplied by Bruce Bristowe and his orchestra.

The evening was very greatly enjoyed by those present and will live long in the memories of the graduating class. Many thanks go to the Home and School Association for making the last function of the school year so successful.

Assemblies

INTRODUCTION DAY . . .

Before the school term was a week old an Introduction Assembly, organized by the Boys' Hi-Y, was held in the auditorium. Pete Lougheed, the chairman, introduced the members of the faculty to the student body. Mr. Churchill outlined life at Central for the new students, so they might have an idea of what to expect at Central, and what Central expects of them. The trophies were displayed by Greg. Forsyth, and Harold Millican read Central's honor roll. The assembly closed with the singing of the School Song.

PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGNS . . .

On Wednesday, October 24th, the student body gathered in the auditorium to hear the three candidates for President of the Students' Council. For the first time in the school's history, a girl ran for the most important position in the school. Jane Egleston said that although she could not give the school any lumber for heating purposes, she would do her best to keep the Council running smoothly. The theme of John Hall's speech was the strengthening of our students' union cards, while Pete Simon promised to do his best to live up to the standards set by previous presidents.

On Friday, October 26th, after a very close race, Pete Simon was elected President of Central's Students' Council for the year 1945-46.

SCHOLARSHIPS . . .

It seems as though Central students are well represented in the field of academic awards, thus, on December 20th the student body assembled for the presentation of these awards. Mr. R. B. Corley, Chairman of the School Board, presented the three Viscount Bennett Scholarships. The two $100 Scholarships for the highest standing in the city in the Grade XII Examinations, one for the girl and one for the boy, were won by Olive Anderson and Don Hymas, respectively. As both were absent, Mrs. Anderson received Olive's while Jean Hymas, Don's sister, received his. The third Bennett, a $50 Scholarship, was presented to John Geddes for his work last year in Grade IX at Rideau Junior High School. Mr. F. G. Buchanan, Superintendent of Schools, presented the McKillop Scholarship of $16 to Albert Okazaki for obtaining the highest standing in Grade XI.

The Scholarships having been presented, the School Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Williams, sang three selections and the assembly closed with the singing of "God Save the King".

Assemblies

MUSICAL . . .

On Thursday, March 7th, an assembly was held at which an educational musical recital was presented by the Music Teachers' Association. Jean Farquharson demonstrated the rudiments of the art of playing the harp. She illustrated the various divisions of musical advancement with songs, dances and short selections on the harp.

Mary Short, with her violin, and Jean Cotton, accompanying her on the piano, then illustrated various types of music for violin and piano. They played excerpts from sonatas, concertos and also played some other short selections.

The three artists then played a Viennese selection to show how to blend the instruments to make a trio.

This very educational assembly closed with the singing of "God Save the King".

ON TRACK . . .

The morning before the Track Meet, an assembly was held which was devoted to the learning of the school yells. Cheer sheets were given to the students and the five cheer-leaders, Dorothy Baxter, Betty Fairbairn, Bill Egbert, John Hall and Gordon McConkey, went into action as the student body tried to raise the roof of the auditorium. Everyone left the assembly feeling confident that Central could out-yell the other schools at the Track Meet to help her come home victorious.

AWARDS DAY . . .

The Awards Assembly, which is probably the most interesting of all assemblies, was held as usual early in June. The Murray Law and Frances Woolverton Memorials were presented to the best all-round boy and girl, respectively. Eleven "Black C's" were presented to the Lettermen by Mr. F. D. Weir, on behalf of the Students' Council, while Flora Morrison presented the eight Lettergirls with pins on behalf of the Junior Girls' Hi-Y. Among many other sports trophies, the Kappa Kappa Tau Memorial Sweaters were presented to the outstanding in the athletic field in each of the three grades, ten, eleven and twelve. The Central Grad Trophy was presented to the person returning from the Track Meet with the most points, while the Kappa Zi Track Trophy was presented to the girl who obtained the most points at the Track Meet. There was also the presentation of various team trophies.

GRADUATION EXERCISES . . .

On June 12th the Graduating Class of 1946, consisting of 48 boys and 60 girls, assembled in the auditorium for their Graduation Exercises. The whole evening was very impressive, and will live long in the memories of the Graduating students. Mr. R. L. Fennerty was chairman for the evening. The Valedictory addresses were delivered by Jane Egleston and Bob Kennedy. Mr. F. D. Weir introduced the girl graduates while Mr. W. G. E. Pulleyblank introduced the boys. Two very lovely numbers were contributed to the evening's enjoyment by the School Orchestra under the direction of Mrs. Mary Makar Williams.

IT COULDN'T HAPPEN HERE

"The bell has rung", the teacher said,
"You pupils all may go."
"The bell has rung," he said again.
The pupils shouted, "No!"

The teacher shouted, "Go" once more,
His voice was very firm.
The pupils pleaded, "No! No! No!
We want to stay and learn!"

The teacher pleaded desperately,
His voice was full of fear,
For all day long he'd been dreaming
Of a tall, cool glass of beer.

"Oh, what is this?" the teacher cried,
Doubt written on his face.
In all his years of teaching
This was the strangest case!

But worry not, O teacher,
Nor have the slightest fear,
For 'though it could have happened,
It couldn't happen here!

—Greg. Forsyth.

The Home and School Association

The Home and School Association activities were commenced this year early in October when the following officers were installed:

President	Mrs. Dinzy
Vice-President	Mrs. Bowman
Secretary	Mrs. Stephen
Treasurer	Mrs. Wilson

This was followed later on in the month by the Annual Membership Tea which was very enthusiastically attended. On November 15th a Parents' Night was held at which the teachers presented a very interesting panel discussion. Ron Fox was presented with a $50 Scholarship and refreshments were served. Among other meetings of special note was the one held in March at which Mr. Clapperton spoke on the "World of Tomorrow". At one meeting, the programme was completely supplied by the students of the school. Among those performing were the Arney sisters, June and Fay, and Bill Egbert. Another programme was provided by Mrs. Carsley's Dramatic Class, who presented two plays.

The annual Card Night, where Whist and Bridge were played, was held on February 8th in the auditorium to raise money for the scholarship fund.

Finally, as a very fitting close to the year's activities of the Association, the Graduation Dance was given in honor of the students who planned to leave the school for other fields of endeavor. The music of Bruce Bristowe's Orchestra provided a wonderful background for a very enjoyable evening.

The best wishes of the Home and School Association go to the Graduating Class of 1946 and may they have all kinds of luck.

School Orchestra and Choir

The Orchestra lacked members this year, but not spirit. The nine loyal members who have attended rehearsals faithfully throughout the year are: Fay Arney, Gordon McConkey, Esneva Cramer, Shirley Knight, Leonard Hurov, Ken Sharratt, Roger Robinson, Bob Foster, Dave Lavin, Sylvia Colpoys. In former years the orchestra has always assumed a place of importance in Graduation Day ceremonies, and this year proved no exception, and on that occasion the orchestra was augmented by other musicians drawn from the students at the school.

The Choir consists of over eighty voices, and was called upon to sing for assemblies, etc. It gave a very creditable performance at the annual demonstration school festival held in April and contributed two lovely numbers on Graduation Day.

Boys' Hi-Y

As the school year draws to a close, the Boys' Hi-Y can look back upon one of its most successful years. The day after school opened the Club's activities got under way with a program welcoming the new students. Other projects successfully carried out during the year were the second annual "Freshman's Friday", sale of school sweaters, and the handling of the door at basketball games.

Many interesting talks were given to the Club during the year. These included talks by Jack Lawrence, Ward Steckle, Rabbi Horowitz and Mr. Churchill's annual address to the Club, this year his topic being "Factors Helping and Hindering School Spirit".

During the latter part of Easter Week, twelve members of the Club attended the Sixth Annual Provincial Conference at Edmonton.

A highly successful year was brought to a close by the Club's closing Banquet and Show.

Miss Canadas

For the fifth successive year, Miss Canadas have canvassed rooms on special "Stamp Days", but it is with a new feeling in their heart as it is for the first year of peace. Central's students realized this too, and gave generously in each of the three drives. January 18—$257.50, February 22—$240.25, March 13—$168.25. A total of $666.00 for the year. Totals for previous years were: 1941-42—$440.00; 1942-43—$1457.00; 1943-44—$1113.00; 1944-45—$2181.25. The amazingly high total Central has attained in the past five years exceeds all other high schools in Calgary, being $5857.25. The highest total for a single drive was in Dec. 1944, when $452.50 was collected.

A great deal of credit is due to the conveners in these years. In 1941-42, Eleanor Whitbread; 1942-43, Audrey Farnsworth; 1943-44, Jean Mair; 1944-45, A. J. Oliver; and 1945-46, Lois Greenfield.

Awards have also been presented to Central for her outstanding achievement. Lowney's Young Canada Club has twice awarded the school with an Honour Award Certificate. On February 15th, 1943 the school was presented with a flag, and later in the year, two pennants which fly proudly from our flag-pole.

Disraeli

For the first time in five years, the auditorium of the school resounded to applause merited by its own Drama Society on April 10th, 11th and 12th, 1946. It was on this occasion that Louis N. Parker's play "Disraeli" went before the footlights with Arnold Murray in the title role. The presentation portrayed the colorful life of the amiable Prime Minister of England during the nineteenth century. It dealt particularly with the purchase of the Suez Canal by the British, even though such a purchase was threatened by Russian spies, active in the royal home in which the Prime Minister vacationed. Under the slightly political surface, a love story enfolded as the Viscount Deeford and Lady Clarissa courted in an atmosphere of propriety and politics.

The play, written in 1910, was first presented in the Princess Theatre, Montreal, on January 23rd, 1911, with the late George Arliss in the leading role. The English public first saw it in 1916 when Dennis Eadie played the Jewish Prime Minister. Evidently Mr. Parker's play is one of those memorable events which draws audiences back again and again, for many of those present at this concert had seen the late George Arliss play, and just the title drew them to the auditorium. The compliments paid the cast by such spectators will live forever in the heart of each member.

The wife of Disraeli, Lady Beaconsfield, was played by Barbara Burland, while the personal servants of the household were played by Bill Woolydod, Dennis Ryan and David Wilcox. The Governor of the Bank was Ken Korek, while Mr. Hugh Meyers was Allen Kerr. The Duke and Duchess of Glastonbury were played by Jack Chetner and Doreen Burrows respectively, while their daughters were Grace Young, Betty Spencer and Evelyn Taft. Playing opposite these were William Selby, Ralph Huband and Bob Slym. Evelyn and Bob were in the emotional spotlight. The spies were Joan Timmins and Ray Bartlett. Bob Nichols was the rural postman and Ben Ragg the butler at the Duke's home. Extra parts in the last act were handled by Shirley Fuson, June Larsen, Elizabeth Adair and Annette Ainsley.

Miss L. Kaulbach directed the production as a whole, being largely responsible for its success. Stage Manager was Murray Kitely and Len Holman was in charge of lighting effects. Mrs. S. Carsley chose the costumes and Mr. F. S. Dyke, Make-up Manager, was assisted by Peggy Lazelle, June Larsen, Elizabeth Adair and Shirley Fuson. Harry Chetner was responsible for properties while Mr. W. Brooks managed the advertising. Girls of the Hi-Y served as usherettes, and intermission music was supplied by Roy Reynolds, Albert Okazaki and Mary Makar Williams. Also appreciated backstage were Sue Burns, Bev Corkill, Dorothy Hayhurst, Morris Cohen, Joan Sheard and Ed Powell.

As the curtain closed and costumes were packed away in the trunks, packed away too, were many happy memories and friendships in the hearts of the cast, the stage crew, the director, and the audience, to be cherished and kindled by remembrance in the years to come.

Central has, as their representatives, from the Senior Hi-Y, Jeanne Adams and Wilda Fitch, and from the Junior Hi-Y, Joyce Smith and Flora Morrison. A Setting-Up Conference was held at the beginning of the year for the purpose of helping the Clubs get organized in the way of a programme for the year.

The Club's main activity, however, was the planning and managing of the Provincial Girls' Hi-Y Conference, held in Calgary. The President, Marjorie Hill, attended the Hi-Y Conference in Vancouver as Calgary's delegate.

Inter School Christian Fellowship

This year, under the leadership of Miss Bessie Dodds, our Alberta I.S.C.F. staff member, the Central I.S.C.F. group has been holding its weekly meetings. Our year's main activity was a thorough and enjoyable study of the book of Ephesians. We also held a number of social evenings among our friends and ourselves, or with other I.S.C.F. groups throughout the city. During the course of the term we have had various speakers, including missionaries from Baffin Land, Africa and Indo-China.

The executive consisted of: Dave McKillop, President; Evelyn Wetherall, Vice-President; Irene Jenkin, Secretary-Treasurer.

Football

SUMMARY:

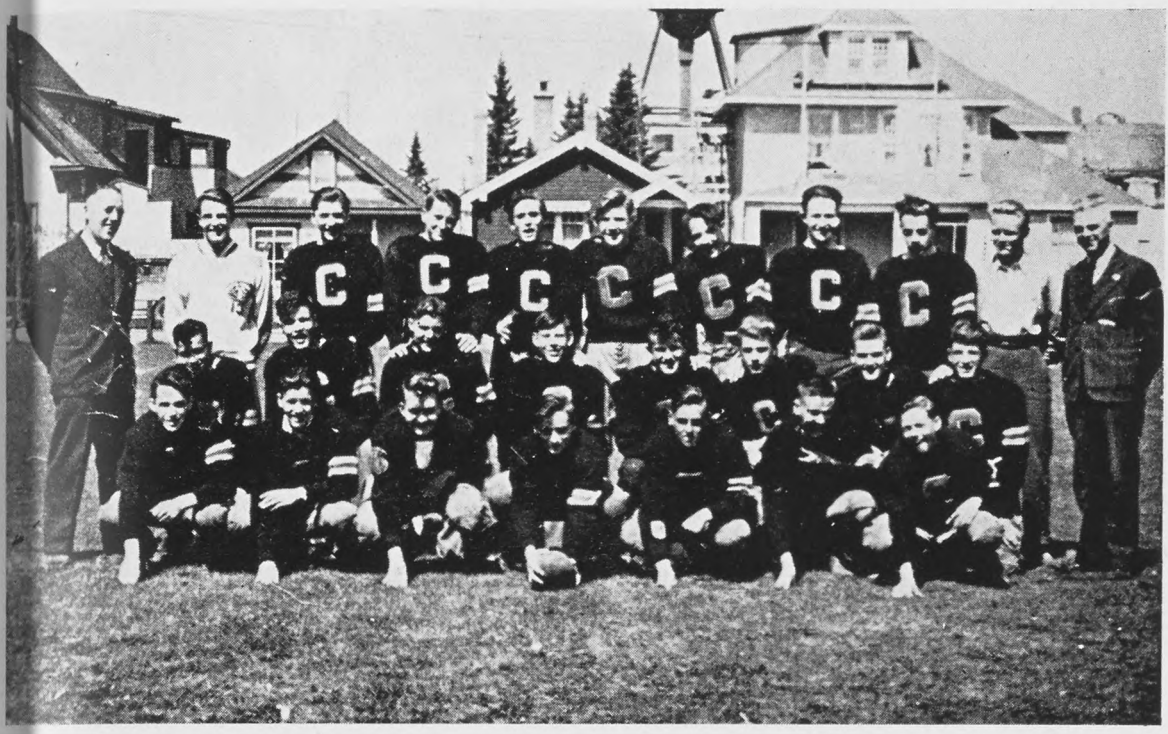

Aftr an absence of two years, football again returned to the interscholastic sports parade, but in a very disappointing fashion. It could best be compared with the pre-war version as a firecracker could be compared with an atom bomb. All the magic of this great autumn pastime was lost, as only a few ever-loyal die-hards witnessed the gridiron battles during the lovely October days, when in yester-years the Senior School League resembled the present City Junior set-up. Perhaps it was because basketball had replaced rugby as the leader in the high school sports field, or because no attempt was made to organize a committee to sponsor and support it. Even more probably it might have been that the few years that had lapsed since it had last been played had found an entirely new student body unwise in the ways of this great sport. But, whatever the reason, let us make doubly sure that next year will once again see thrilled hundreds amid a colorful setting of cheer-leaders and screaming students watching our gladiators rip their way to victory across the green Mewata turf. And, as a solution to difficulties, we should have two teams, one senior and one junior, to give all a chance to perform, as three teams are much too hard to handle for a school as small as Central.

Coaching was supplied by members of the West End Tornadoes, and they did a highly commendable job, starting with green youngsters, some of whom had never touched a pigskin before. Their invaluable assistance in teaching the fundamentals should go a long way in the development of C.C.I. gridiron material.

The new system of selection, which takes into account both age and height, as well as weight, brought about a great deal of argument both pro and con. Regardless, it did help towards discouraging students from taking off weight.

One of the most predominant faults of school football is that, due to adverse weather conditions, the schedule is seldom completed. The lack of equipment found linemen who should be wearing heavy-duty shoulder harness, wearing thin cardboard-like pads. An effort should be made towards offsetting this next fall.

Both C.C.I. squads came second in their four-team circuits with Western and Crescent winning the Junior and Intermediate crowns respectively. Taking both teams into consideration though, Central can show a better record than any of the other schools. The Juniors won three out of their four contests, while the Intermediates took two out of five of their games.

Junior Football Team

The Junior Club boasted a collection of starry performers but lacked sound reserve strength and weight in the line. However, they more than made up for it with their eagerness to learn plus their wonderful team spirit. The backfield showed flashes of brilliance in which they handled the pigskin with unexpected expertness. A few injuries to key players, though, resulted in their lone defeat by a one-sided score. Gordy Pearce, who was their field general for the first two games, was benched because of a badly infected finger.

The outstanding man on the line-up was guard Don Millard, who mixed a peculiar style with grim determination to make him stand head and shoulders above the rest. Fiery Sherold Moore was the backbone of the defense and took over Pearce's spot at quarterback. On the attack, tricky Jack Belkin combined with Dave Lavin to make the one-two punch which featured the Purple and Gold outfit. Wingback Bill McGiffon deserves honorable mention for his sterling work as a blocking back.

The Junior lads had a successful season and many of them may become highly polished gridders if their initial year is any indication.

Intermediate Football Team

Under the skillful mentorship of Dave Tomlinson and Don McIlroy, the Intermediates were a consistent aggregation who, like the Juniors, were hard pressed for sufficient material. Nevertheless, the two coaches worked wonders with them and turned out a front line which was the envy of the rest of the league.

Fullback Bill Fayter was the main ground-gainer and it was an inspiration to all to see Bill perform. Halfback Bob Rutter provided the speed for end runs, while "Arny" Murray at flying wing was an excellent blocker. To choose certain players above the others is a tough job, but with a little thought it can be seen that Dick Timms and Bob Gilhooley were the mainstays of the C.C.I. linemen.

As to the team itself, it did not have any resemblance to a forward-passing attack and little or no smoothness in executing plays, even though it had an impregnable forward wall. Definitely not a great team but a good one which deserved more support than it received.

Athletics

Basketball

After the construction of the modern gym in 1940, a long awaited "Renaissance" of activities began which slowly moved C.C.I. up to its rightful position among city high schools. Basketball was the sport chiefly affected, and the sudden great improvement in that sport forced it to the forefront, so that it has become the major activity of the students, around which most phases of high school life revolve.

This year was no exception. With hockey still out of the picture and rugby not yet back on its feet, basketball provided the interest which burst into a flaming beacon that showed to one and all the high degree of school spirit which C.C.I. can show.

In one year the House Leagues were built up to a strength that was not expected for several years. Playing the length of the floor made such a difference that the House Leagues ceased to become "rugby games". The Senior Division boasted four teams and produced many a thrilling tussle before the championship was decided. In order to give all a chance to participate, six teams were needed in the minor league and this number tended to reduce slightly the quality of play, though there was nevertheless, a definite improvement over the play of past years. But it was clear that, in order to put House Leagues on a satisfactory basis, better refereeing and more encouragement of spectator interest was needed.

Highlights of the Interscholastic season were the appearance of many new stars and the higher level of play in both Junior and Senior sections. The fact that the games were played at night added to their popularity and helped to win the continued support of the student body. Better support, in turn, reacted favorably upon the players, who felt that they had the school behind them.

The only sad note as far as Central was concerned was the failure of either of the teams to capture any trophy, for the first time in four years. However, the Seniors were contenders until the final whistle and the Junior squad performed in a manner worthy of our colors. As a consolation and a hope, we might suggest that this was our year for rebuilding, in order to turn out championship aggregations in the future.

SUMMARY OF THE GAMES

January 11th—Starting the season off with a bang, both C.C.I. quintets turned in victories over the Western Bronks. The Junior game emphasized the defence while the Seniors had a clear advantage in floor play.

January 18th—The powerful Western Argos squads outfought the Centralites in thrilling matches on the Central hardwood, winning 38-24 and 42-34. The Juniors held the tall visiting crew in check for a greater portion of the game, but fell apart in the final minutes. The Seniors were unable to untrack their offensive skill to compete with the opposition's shooting.

January 25th—Journeying up to the hilltop court, Central suffered a double defeat at the hands of the C.H.H.S. lads. In a breath-taking Junior tilt the home team edged out a 42-37 overtime triumph. A Senior rally fell short of the mark with the final score 40-32. Jim Seymour paced the loser's attack with ten points.

February 1st—Back on the home floor, the C.C.I. teams had no trouble downing the weak Western Bronk Clubs. However, the Juniors, led by Glen Edwards, had to come from behind to win 30-23. The other issue was never in doubt, with Seymour's six field goals paving the way.

February 8th—On the spacious Western auditorium, the Purple and Gold split a double-header, losing the first game 27-13 while winning the Senior one against a short-handed Argo gang by a 38-20 margin. The Juniors were away off form in their shooting but held their more experienced opponents to a low score. Ross Pierce of the Seniors was definitely "in the groove", notching ten points.

February 15th—Supporters of this old institution were overcome with joy when their cage artists upset the Crescent squads before a sell-out crowd. The Junior five's 42-35 victory was their best exhibition of the season, while the Seniors combined team-work with individual brilliance to hand the high-riding Crescent Seniors their first setback of the year.

February 22nd—The following week the cellar-dwelling Western Bronk teams, as expected, lost a far from interesting twin bill to Central. The Juniors luckily eked out a 22-20 win as the Seniors crushed the hapless Bronks 42-14.

March 1st—Before a capacity throng in the massive Western Hall, the Central cagers gave a gallant account of themselves but the odds were too great. The extraordinary height of the Argo Junior five, plus the outstandign shooting of Joe Sallis, made the difference in a game that was closer than the 55-26 score indicated. The Senior battle featured smooth passing by both hoop machines with the Argos having the better half of the breaks.

Athletics

March 4th—This unforgettable Monday evening found our boys with their backs to the wall as defeat meant elimination. As fate would have it, only the Seniors came through with a nerve-wracking 51-49 count and the entire team driving from the outset. Dave Tomlinson fairly outdid himself by playing heads-up ball. The Gold of the Juniors went down to defeat as champions should, in a torrid session of basketball action, by a 30-28 difference. It was a real heartbreaker for us. Keen-eyed Clive Cowin, with eight digits, was the big gun of this attack against Crescent.

N.B.—This triumph over Crescent moved Central into the play-offs for a best of three game series for the Senior Cup.

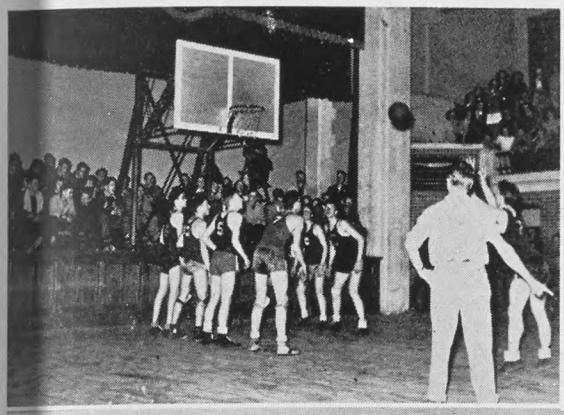

THE "FINALS"

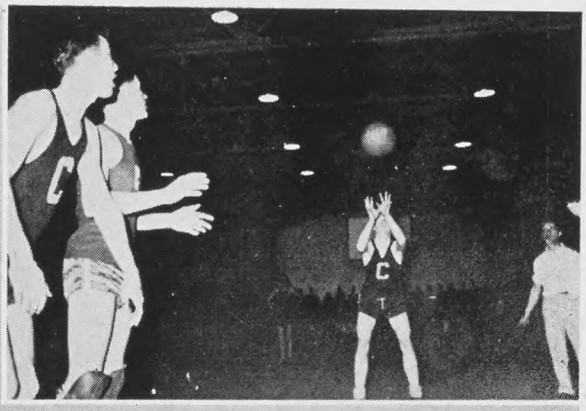

March 8th—The first game of the final series was played at Central, and proved to be one of the most exciting and interesting battles ever seen in Interscholastic Basketball. For the major part of this see-saw contest the hilltop band, sparked by the uncanny shooting accuracy of Bill Burrows, had the lead, but after ten minutes of the final stanza, relinquished it when Bud Milner and Ross Pierce paced a Central upsurge to tie the ball game. From here on, the chips were down and Jim "Black" Seymour banged in four baskets in a row to give the Centralites the lead in the play-offs by virtue of the 50-46 score. Pierce led the victors with eighteen counters.

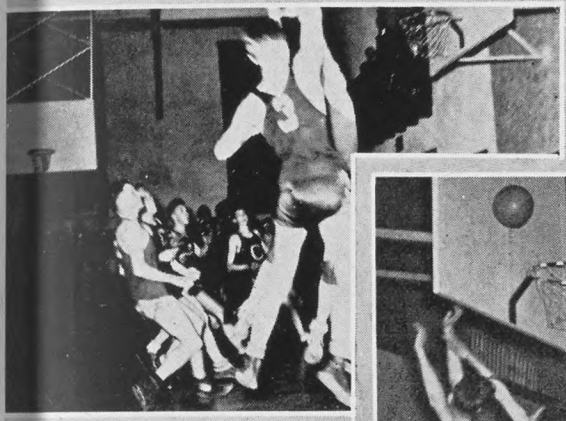

March 13th—The following Wednesday on the tiny hilltop court, the Purple and Gold took a 46-33 basketball lesson from the northerners to tie up the series. The usually consistent forwards seemed lost, and only fine work by the guards averted a trouncing. Centre Seymour was again the standout player on the line-up, hitting the strings for fourteen points.

March 18th—The thousand-odd fans who jammed Western that Monday evening for the deciding game in the Senior Division, no doubt saw first class basketball, but it was rather disheartening to see the red and white of Crescent gain and keep such a clear advantage as to capture the award with a 47-30 victory. Smoother and more experienced, they led from the beginning and only in the final quarter did C.C.I. impress the crowd. A word of praise is necessary because, although hopelessly behind at three-quarter time, the team refused to give up and actually out-scored their opponents in the final period.

Senior Interscholastic Team

A frank and fair review of the Senior squad is difficult because in some contests they looked unbeatable, while in others they were just a mediocre collection of cagers. A supporter would in all probability like to remember those three victories over the triumphant Crescent club where the Purple and Gold displayed a quality of play which, had it been evident in all their games, would have undoubtedly led them to the winning of the Gas Company Trophy.

Out of the Senior line-up came no individual performers to compare with the spectacular "Bremners", "Wilkins", and "Tempests" of the past. Yet nearly every player was in some respect exceptional even though he might fall short of all-round perfection.

Jim Seymour and Ross Pierce led the scoring parade with Jim deadly under the basket, taking second place in the individual scoring race, while Ross was close to the sensational at times with his looping long shot from the key. Besides these two hoopsters there was a host of hard working performers and among the most outstanding was little Bud Milner. Taking over Bremner's vacated spot at right forward, Bud combined speed with a unique style of play to make him stand out from the others. Captain George Morrison, play-making Ross Lawson, and sharpshooting Harry Webber were the pick of the rest. Substitutes Allison, McGregor, Dawson and Brockbank played well whenever their opportunity arose. In the guard position, Ian Brown showed great improvement over previous years in playing form, and this added to his 6 ft. 5 in. reach, helped him to capture numerous rebounds to the great advantage of the team. Big "Baldy" Tomlinson lacked the punch and scoring power of his former seasons, but contributed his share towards the team's triumphs. Don "Eck" McIlroy, a fighting, never-say-die guard completed the line-up.

Although they missed that important spark which makes the difference between a winning and losing outfit, the Seniors can be justly proud of the way in which they were still in there fighting when they went down to defeat. A glance at the graduating class pictures will show that a large percentage of the team will still be on hand next year, and re-inforced with the better Junior players, they should have a splendid chance to win that trophy in 1947.

Junior Interscholastic Team

On an early March evening, an Interscholastic Basketball contest was nearing the end. From the midst of a terrific roar of cheering students came the piercing sound of a whistle across the Central hardwood, a whistle bringing mingled emotions of happiness and sorrow.

For this was the "Waterloo" of the Junior quintet. Having overcome tremendous odds in 1945 to win the Eaton Trophy, this year's crew were outclassed in basketball prowess but showed the fighting spirit of last season's team. The Western Argos easily defeated Crescent in the finals for the cup. The Argos were one of those teams that spring up every few years and cannot be beaten.

The Juniors were the kind of a team that supporters take to their hearts for every contest in which they played was a battle right down to the last second. It was disappointing for the Juniors not to reach the finals, but unlike the year before, old "Dame Fortune" seemed to be smiling elsewhere. As a synopsis of the club it might be said that the former Champions lacked offensive punch and individual scoring power. On the other side of the ledger came their fine defensive play, open style of attack, and unequalled enthusiasm. All in all it was a fine team and worthy of the school it represented.

As regards to the players themselves, no brilliant star stood out from the ranks, in fact, as was the case with the Seniors, it would be difficult to single out any particular man above the others.

Among the veterans were diminutive Arnold Kipnes, tricky Bob Campbell, and aggressive Jim Allen. Glen Edwards was the most improved player on the roster. Two youthful newcomers of particular promise were Brian

Gibson and Ken McLean. Future Central students will be seeing a lot of "Mac's" dynamite around the pivot slot and "Gib's" sterling guard performances. Clive Cowin, Ed Arnold and Jack Belkin will be welcome additions to Senior company when winter rolls around again. And for the finishing touches came pint-sized Peter Epp, the pride of the golden-jerseyed Juniors.

At this point a note of praise should be forthcoming to George Morrison and Fred Spence for their work in developing the boys and inspiring them towards clean play and sportsmanship.

As we gaze into our crystal ball we see the continued expansion of basketball throughout the school and city as the golden age of sports begins, and also, we hope, the superiority of the Purple and Gold upon the courts of high school gymnasiums.

Editor's Note—Mention should be made of Pete Lougheed, Junior Captain, who's "sixty minute" basketball held the Juniors together through many crucial minutes of play. Pete, untiring, and giving his all in every game, was the playmaker and "spark" of the Junior Club, and it was the wizardy of Pete's long-shots in the clutches that turned many defeats into victories.

House League Review

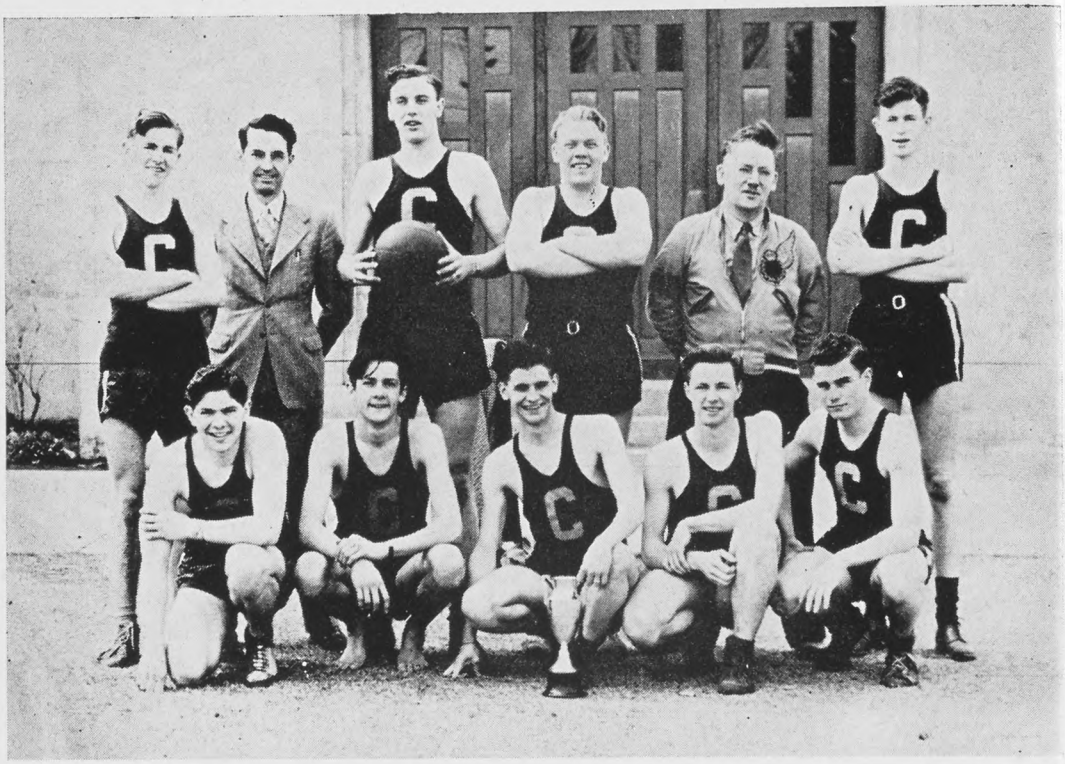

Looking back on the past House League season, before you can do anything else you have to hand out bouquets to Mr. Hackett and Mr. Brooks for the fine manner in which they organized the ten house league teams and the 82 games played during the winter. Since his arrival at Central, Mr. Hackett has chalked up a long list of accomplishments of which the real feather in his cap goes towards his inception of house league games to be played on the full length of the floor instead of across the tiny half-court.

The Junior circuit boasted six teams and over 65 players participated in the games. At the beginning of the year the games were rather ragged and listless, but under the capable guidance of some of the senior boys, they steadily improved to an extent that was not thought possible in November. Lavin undoubtedly had a powerhouse crew and even after the hard-felt loss of Bill McGibbon in mid-season, they still held an undisputed edge in play. Besides Lavin, there was Brian Gibson and Ken McLean who were the other backbones of the squad. Tiny Harry Palmer had an outfit that had little teamwork but an excellent trio of attackers, while as an exact opposite, Moore's club had the best spirit in the division but they had little or no scoring power. Albert Okazaki and Bernard Cohen had average quintets that turned in a few good contests. Ted Allan's team usually gave their all but it was never enough.

The Senior Division consisted of four hoop machines, each of which featured some phase of the game. George Morrison had two excellent guards in Tomlinson and Brown to give them complete control under their basket. Bud Milner and Jim Seymour formed a two-man punch that was typical of their style all year. Lougheed's cagers had plenty of everything except that all-important offensive power which is needed to win ball games. Ross Lawson was a direct comparison as they had a five-man crew that could explode at anytime to put the game on ice. The 1946 Senior House League has a standard that should set an example for the years to come.

Leading scorers were Ross Lawson of the Seniors with 113 points and Clive Cowin in the Junior section. Lawson, a brilliant forward, has another year in the C.C.I. fold. Cowin amassed a total of 204 points in fifteen games for the amazing average of 13½ points per game.

The House Leagues had few upsets or nerve-wracking tussles, but produced basketball that was enjoyable to all concerned. After the winners had been decided and the equipment packed away for another year, there were few regrets or criticism.

Morrison Regains Osborne Trophy

Ending up at the top of the standings, George Morrison as expected, defeated Lawson 51-34 to enter the best of three game play-off series against Bud Milner. Milner had previously eliminated Lougheed 43-33 in a sudden death semi-final tilt.

In the first game, Morrison came from behind to triumph 43-30. Brockbank and Seymour split scoring honors with sixteen markers. Then with their backs to the wall, Milner's hoopsters came through to upset the apple-cart and trim Morrison 38-25. Jim Seymour dropped nineteen points through the strings in a fine basketball display that evened the series to force a third and deciding game. But with the chips down GeorgeMorrison and Co. turned in one of their better performances to win 44-28 in a contest that was highlighted by fast breaks and quick passing. In taking the championship for the second time in three years, Morrison exhibited his true form by sparking his team-mates to victory.

K.K.T. Cup Won by Laven

This six-team league finished up in a three-way tie for third position, to force a round robin series. Moore won out and continued his giant-killing act by tripping Palmer's high-riding outfit to advance into the finals against the pace-making Laven squad. The play-off was also a best of three affair with the winner to take the Kappa Kappa Tau Trophy, emblematic of the Junior House League.

The first game saw six-footer Ken McLean rack up twelve points, to lead the decisive 38-17 win. Using a tight zone defense the winners were never challenged throughout the battle. In the second play-off little Sherold Moore sparked his under-dog quintet as they coasted to victory by a surprising 38-14 margin. A heart-breaking injury to Moore put a damper on the final match as his charges had to perform without him. Even so they put up a determined fight to force Laven's star-studded club to extend themselves. But without their ace, the opposition was too much for them, but they gallantly went down to defeat. Dave Laven was the leading scorer with fifteen counters as every man on his line-up hit the scoring column. Despite the fact they seemed to get all the breaks, Laven had the better team and deserved the award they won.

Intermediate Girls' Interscholastic Basketball

The Intermediate Girls started the season raring to go, and during a gruelling league, suffered only three set-backs at the hands of the Western A team. This left Central in second place, a recurrance of the previous year's play. Had there been play-offs, however, we feel assured that Central's game team would have overcome this obstacle and captured the trophy. Victory over Western A has became a challenge which we are sure the girls will meet and overcome next season.

Following are the final scores of the games:

Central vs. Crescent, 24-16, 35-9 and 16-9—Central victorious in every game.

Central vs. Western B, 30-13, 26-11 and 26-8—with Central again on the long end of the scores.

Central vs. Western A, 15-22, 31-35 and 14-42—and Central the losers.

High Scores—Shirley Douglas 76, Claramae Watson 40, Joan Hayton 32, Helen Nisbet 22, Elaine Bathie 20.

Junior Girls' Interscholastic Basketball

The Junior Girls' Basketball team began early under the watchful eye of Mr. Churchill to practice for interscholastic play.

The girls got off to a bad start, and from that game on, fought a valiant but losing battle, probably because it was the first year playing together as a team. The girls, however, never gave up and many of the games were lost by very small margins.

The final scores against the different schools were:

Central vs. Crescent, 19-8, 19-10 and 28-16.
Central vs. Western, 14-13, 32-22, 24-19, 28-17, 27-11 and 25-11.
Central in all cases was on the short end of the score.

Central's top scorers were: Kay Gubbins 21, Flora Morrison 21, Janet Neeland 20, Mona Diamond 16.

Girls' House League Basketball

This year the girls started playing House League Basketball in the middle of October, under the direction of Miss James. Approximately 60 girls turned out and eight captains were chosen by Mr. Churchill.

The captains were Shirley Douglas, Claramae Watson, Nancy Collinge, Norma Roberts, June Arney, Evelyn Taylor, Bernice Dubensky, Phyl Tinney.

The teams were split up into two different sections, four played Wednesday after school, and four played Friday at noon. Shirley Douglas was the winner of the Wednesday-night league, and Claramae Watson of the Friday league. Two exciting play-off games were held on December 14th and 21st, for the Kappa Zi House League Trophy. Shirley Douglas won both games, by scores of 29-10 and 27-11.

The players on the two teams were: Shirley Douglas (Captain), Joan Hayton, Janet Neeland, Marni Bruce, Georgina Hicks, Edna Morrow, Helen Nisbett. Claramae Watson (Captain), Gay Gubbins, Olive Mae Blackey, Mildred Peele, Alixe Bures, Pauline Kearns.

Third Row—Arnold Murray, Hugh Planche, Charles Hantho, Sherold Moore, Jack Belkin, Phil Ross.

Boys' Tumbling Club

This year the Tumbling Club was under the auspices of The National Fitness Act with Ross Lawson as Instructor. At the first meeting there was a large turnout and Ken Lewis was elected President for the term.

The Club met each Tuesday after four in the east end of the Gym and tumbled for about an hour and a half. The members improved greatly in their tumbling as the year progressed. Many new stunts were learned and old ones were perfected.

The year's activities were climaxed by a Gymnastic Demonstration held at Western Canada in which some of the members of the club participated.

The Club has not only obtained thrills and amusement but useful training throughout the year.

Boys' Golf Club

The Central High School Golf Club, under the supervision of Mr. Sid Jones, was again very successfully organized for the 1946 season.

The club got away to an early start this year with a limited number of only sixteen members. At this rate it was thought that the club tournaments could be completed early in June. Only two tournaments were conducted: the Championship event and the Consolation, both played under match-play rules.

An interscholastic match has been planned, the games to be played at the Inglewood course, but at the time of publication no more word has been received about it.

The Executive of this year's club was:

President ..... Russ Powell
Secretary-Treasurer ..... Ed Whittaker
Committee ..... Harold Millican, Rex Heiters

Due to the late organization of the Golf Club, it was impossible to obtain a picture of the Club for this publication.

Members: Greg Forsyth, Bob Crisall, George Morrison, Earl Lomas, Ted Allan, Bill Whittaker, Fred Ashdown, Dave Aird, Bob Geddes, Gordon Pierce, Roy Gillespie, Dave Chevalier.

The Boxing Club

In this, its first year, the Boxing Club was late in starting, and, as a result, was not as well organized as it might have been. The five or six loyal members were without an instructor and so very little was gained by the few mauling sessions which were held on Tuesdays after four. Plays and other activities on the stage finally brought about the collapse of the club, but it is hoped that next year a real club will be formed with a tournament drawn up and possibly an interscholastic series of bouts arranged. There is boxing talent in the school, which, if properly developed, could produce some top-notch pugilists. It would be well worth the time of all those interested to turn out next year for the Boxing Club.

Bowling Club

President ..... Genevieve Clark
Secretary-Treasurer ..... Sharon Sprung
Mentor ..... Mrs. S. E. Carsley

In Central's Bowling Play-offs, Genevieve Clark's Looney Loons were first; second were Dick Timms' Bowling Beauties; third Frank Ketner's King Pins, and fourth Blake Lilly's Block Busters.

The high averages for the year were held by Jim Clark 192, and Julia-Ann Christie 165. The individual high single was attained by Ross Pierce and Sharon Sprung with 318 and 238 respectively. High double by Jim Clark 523, and Sharon Sprung 455. The team with High Single, Gibson's Gamblers, 1003, and High Double, Gibson's Gamblers 1890.

The club met Fridays at Gibson's Bowling Alleys and had forty very enthusiastic members. A successful year ended with an Inter-School Bowling Tourney. Genevieve Clark made an exceptional showing in having the best score for the girls with a total of 871 for four games. The other high scores for Central were Dick Timms 781, Julia-Ann Christie 715, and Sharon Sprung 678.

Western won the Hudson's Bay Trophy by 23 points.

Missing—Donna Goodfellow, Norma Roberts, Phyllis Trca, Helen Nisbet, Joyce Turner, Lawretta Hicks, Donna Lane.

Girls' Tumbling Club

This year a very enthusiastic group of about twenty girls interested in tumbling met Tuesday afternoons in the school auditorium. June Arney as instructor, with much hard work, succeeded in turning out many good tumblers. Miss James was anxious to see the success of the club.

Springboard, pyramids and tap dancing added interest to the regular mat work. The year's work was climaxed by a display in which all the girls took part, at Western, on April 15th.

The club feels it owes its success to the patience of June Arney, who has strived to promote girls' tumbling at Central.

CENTRAL VICTORIOUS IN "46" MEET

"We did it before and we can do it again," as Mr. Churchill's words rang out across the auditorium, the athletes of the Purple and Gold were determined to answer this challenge. And they did!!

The lads from C.C.I. captured the Grand Aggregate Award and the Junior Shield as well as tieing for the Senior and Intermediate Championships. They also collected their share of individual honors, with Tom McGregor's brilliant efforts in the high jump, broad jump and dash enabling him to tie for the Senior Medal. Central's new boy wonder, Howard McCallister, finished up the Meet with eight points, enough to take the Junior Individual Crown. Centralites were also predominant in the record breaking field with mercury-footed Bill Fayter clipping a fifth of a second off the previous mark for the Intermediate hundred. Youthful Ted Allison out-leapt all competitors in the Junior High Jump to astound track critics by bettering the 1929 record by 3½ inches. The Intermediate Boys' 440 Yard Track Relay gave an outstanding performance by breaking the tape in 47.8 seconds to establish a new record. Two other relay teams, the Junior Boys' Shuttle and the Senior Girls' Track Relays, posted better times for their particular events. The girls failed to win any trophies but were contenders until the last event was completed.

If ever the students of Central High School were proud of their athletes, that bleak and cold afternoon was the time. For never have the colors of our school shone with such splendor across Mewata Stadium nor have the words of our school song ever vibrated with the same glorious feeling as they did on that memorable day.

TRACK 1945

Finishing off a grand year of athletic competition with the most colorful and enjoyable Interscholastic Track Meet in the history of these school field days, Central came through with the best track team ever turned out on that rock-scarred half-acre we call our campus. We placed second, a slim half point separating us from the winners and our first field championship. But this was no disgrace, as we came just behind a high school with a student population three times that of our own, and one that can boast of much better athletic equipment and facilities.

The 31st Annual Meet was a tribute to our school and to our athletes. Any team which can do so well in this particular field day, deserves more than its share of glory, as the Calgary High School Track and Field Meet has been in longer continuous operation than any event of its kind in the country and is also considered by those who know, as having a standard of skill and ability unequalled anywhere in Canada.

The boys, especially, did very well. They captured the Intermediate's St. Julien Shield with 31 points; came second in the Senior Division; broke a record; took individual honors in the middle class; and were runners-up in nearly every event on the program. In three of these, the C.C.I. lads provided their own opposition as they placed first and second. These events were the Senior High Jump and Intermediate Broad Jump and 660 Yard Run.

The girls did not fare half as well as the boys in the sports day, finishing up in third position. However, they were a great deal better than in the past and served notice they would be threats in the future. Audrey Jean Oliver ran up eleven points to win the Senior crown for the third successive year. This was truly an exceptional feat, and she also held the beautiful Central Grad. Track Trophy for the three years when she was a student at Central.

Out of the five records which were broken, C.C.I. competitors snatched one. Gordon "Sprit" Haight, a slim, rangy fellow with an impressive Junior High record, amazed track critics as he flashed around the Mewata cinder track to chalk up a miraculous time of 1.31-2/5 for the Intermediate 660 Yard Run.

Tom MacGregor and Pete Lougheed tied for the Intermediate Championship with eight points apiece to receive Birk's Silver Medals.

Thanks are due Miss James, Mr. Hackett, Mr. S. Jones and Mr. Churchill for their work with the Track Team.

Kappa Kappa Tau

One autumn day in 1923 a group of Central's senior rugby team decided to form a club to boost football interest at C.C.I. It was patterned after college fraternities and was called the Kappa Kappa Iota. Only members of the senior team were allowed to enter and the purpose was twofold. (1) for the development of interest in Central, mainly athletic, and (2) for the intellectual betterment of the members. In 1926 this organization received its charter.

This was the birth of the high school fraternity in Calgary. The Kappa Kappa Tau is the "father" of the fraternities and sororities of this city.

A few years later the name was changed to the Kappa Kappa Tau, and for the following twenty years has remained with its initial purpose, despite tremendous opposition, competition, and numerous other difficulties. In carrying out the first part of their platform the Tau can boast of a large list of accomplishments that would bring amazement to all. But a great deal of these have been obscured by the passing of time and only the most recent work is known. In fulfillment of the second part, one need only glance at the alumni list to see names of well known personages who, if questioned, would quickly admit that the fellowship and hidden qualities of this Klan gave them invaluable assistance on the pathroads of life.

So, even though the K.K.T. has swerved a little from its original basis, the most antagonistic critic has to admit that they have carried out their purpose to unforseen heights.

About ten years ago the first sorority came into existence and from it has mushroomed innumerable others and this growth is still spreading. This situation began the first real opposition to the K.K.T. and here the trouble started as many changes appeared. The Tau ceased to hold a dominant position, criticism increased, money-making schemes were limited and the other clubs tended to fight it out for social standing leaving this frat hidden amongst the others and unknown to the majority. As a result, candidates (suitable for admission) became scarce, and at one time during the war years they had to resort to initiating three lads from other schools. This brought an outraged cry from the alumni and together with the bringing in of Freshmen students, was a distinctive move away from the constitution. However, even as their reputation faltered partially, the Tau together with a few other level-headed fraternities, continued on with the idea of service. Therefore, it is with no great surprise that the K.K.T. finds that it is still the leader of high school fraternities with an envied reputation and a promising future.

This brings us up to the present, where they have continued on the same road of success. Social undertakings have included several weiner roasts, house parties, a hay-ride, a gala New Year's affair, a picnic, and a highly profitable raffle.

The members of the Klan are noted for their athletic participation, and naturally enough, sports is their main interest. That is why the main business has been towards the advancement of athletics throughout the school and community. In this end they have done much. Since 1943, three athletic Memorial Award sweaters have been presented to the best all-round athlete in each grade at Central, in honor of Tom Barr, D'Arcy Scott and Joe Dutton, former members who were killed in the service of our country. A cup is given to the winners of the Junior Boys' Basketball House League champions. This year new football sweaters will be donated to the school. Finally, a beautiful trophy and miniature is to be awarded annually to the most valuable player to his team in the Calgary Junior Football Leaugue.

Late in June a banquet at the Pallisen Hotel will be held to commemorate the 20th Anniversary of the Kappa Kappa Tau Fraternity. A large number of the alumni is expected to be on hand for the occasion.

Sigma Rho

Colors—Green, White, Gold

The Sigma Rho Fraternity, inaugurated in 1934, has once again completed a very successful year, although several members left during the year to join the post-war Armed Services.

The Fraternity is made up of members from Central, Western, St. Mary's and ex-servicemen, many of whom are attending the Rehabilitation School. At the beginning of the year three new members, Ray Huffman, Alan Evans and Jerry Cox, were inducted ceremoniously into the Fraternity.

The year's activities were varied, and included hay-rides, a raffle, weiner roasts, house parties, and several stag sessions. The outstanding activities of the year were the "Twelfth Annual" banquet and party, held at the Renfrew Club, and a New Year's Party in honor of Jim Adams, who left to join the U.S. Marine Corps. Some of the activities were, a masquerade party, several house parties, rummage sale, a picnic to Burnside, and later in the evening a trip to the Red Deer Lake barn dance. The eighth Annual Rho Round Up was only held within the Fraternity: it consisted of a banquet and a private dance.

Phi Beta Phi

The Phi Beta Phi has concluded another very successful year. At the commencement of the year, five new members were inducted into the Fraternity. The initiation, although shorter this year, was very hilarious and most successful.

A Banquet in their honor was held in the Palliser. Two more members were enrolled in April, after which a dinner was held at the home of Don MacWilliam.

The second, popular "Gobble-'n-Go", was held at the home of Howie McDiarmid. Our perpetually successful "Phi Phantasy" was not held this year to the disappointment of many. Our policy of an activity every two weeks resulted in a series of house parties, stags, a hay-ride, a breakfast party and a private dance held in conjunction with the Eta Beta Pi.

Vice-President ..... Jeanne Adams
Secretary ..... Anne Brodie
Treasurer ..... Joan Beaven
Keeper of the Log ..... Nancy Collinge
Telephone Secretary ..... Jean Milne

Members: Joan Hayton, Dorothy Brown, Flora Morrison, Donna Wilson, Phyl Stephen, Carrie Harrison.

The Alpha Gamma is the oldest Sorority at Central. It was inaugurated in 1928 and is comprised of students and ex-students of C.C.I. The present active membership is twelve.

After the year's annual party at Joan Coxon's, four new members joined the Sorority. They were Flora Morrison, Donna Wilson, Phyl Stephen and Kay Balfour. These girls, along with Pat McGibbon and Nancy Collinge, who joined the Sorority late last year, were initiated. The initiations ended with a slumber party at Kay Balfour's. Also in honor of the new members a Hallowe'en House Party was held at the home of Jeanne Adams.

The big event of the year was the "Christmas Prom", a formal, at the Palliser Hotel. After the holiday season a raffle with very pleasing results, and a successful rummage sale were held.

In the Spring, a new member, Carrie Harrison, joined the Sorority. Pat McGibbon and Kay Balfour left town, which was a great loss to the Sorority. Two of the regular meetings were turned into farewell parties for them.

Another spring function was a Progressive Dinner Party to celebrate Easter. Also a Breakfast Party was held for the Alumni at Jeanne Adams'.

June brought the invitational dance, "The Cotton Ball", at St. Mark's Hall. The year was finished with a barbeque and the election of new officers.

The activities of the season have included a Breakfast Party, two Rummage Sales, Raffle, a number of House Parties, Punch Party, five Slumber Parties, a successful Dance at St. Mark's, and also the Annual Formal at the Palliser in January.

Alumnae: Olive Anderson, Betty Bertrand, Lois Hill, Norma Hill, Beverly Kirby, Sharon Sprung, Nancy Taylor, Marg Barclay, Jean Mair, Betty McNeill, Ruth Renner, Frances Waddell, Alison Walford, Kathryn Porter, Mrs. R. Jamieson, Donna Calder, Mrs. McGowan, Mrs. S. Matthews, Mrs. McLeod, Mrs. W. Stronach, Mrs. L. Thirwell, Isabelle Howson, Mrs. D. Morgan, Louise McInnes, Betty Porter, Mrs. F. Pettigrew, Maxine Forbes-Roberts, Betty Jean Ingraham, Shirley Walker, Margaret Morkill, Bette Johnson, Mrs. L. Graham, Mrs. L. Roy, Betty Moore.

"The Grand Sisterhood of Kappa Zi" was formed in 1934 to "promote school welfare". The Sorority is composed of Central students only. Besides buying the Readers Digest for the school library and donating two cups, one for Girls' House League Basketball and the other for the girl who wins the most points at Track Meet, the sorority bought two new sweaters for the cheer leaders. This has been our custom for over ten years.

This very successful year started with a Rushing Party at the home of Marilyn Bouck, in the form of an "Indoor Weiner Roast". Then a formal rushing party was held at Sharon Sprung's. The new members inducted were Elaine Bathie, Barb Burland, Barb Lowry, Claire Keir, Cecelia Randle, Jeanne Engemoen. In the fall a very enjoyable Progressive Dinner Party was given in honor of the new members.

We then held a raffle, the prize being $20, which was won by Dick Oldaker. This was followed by a Slumber Party at Gwen McDonald's.

The girls were very busy at Xmas time. A Benefit Tea was held at Pat Boese's for the purpose of raising money to give our annual party for some of the children at the Salvation Army Home. This party was fun for all, and each of the guests were given a present. Then came a Banquet at the Palliser when the President presented each new member with her pin. The girls wound up the holidays with a skating party at Betty Fairbairn's.

The Twelfth Anniversary was celebrated by the sorority sisters and their friends with a formal dance at the Glencoe Club on March 9th. The music was supplied by Doug Randle's Orchestra.

The Zi's ended the year with a dance, the "Bum's Rush" at St. Mark's Hall. This sums up the activities for 1945-46 and for the Zi's this year has been a busy and exciting one. In closing, the Kappa Zi Sorority wishes to extend best wishes to the graduates of this year and wish them every success.

Chi Beta Rho

The Chi Beta Rho Sorority, inaugurated in 1935, has completed its eleventh successful year, with a membership of nineteen girls from Central and Western.

This year's activities were varied and successful. A house party, held at the home of Barbara McLeod, started the social season very well, and a Christmas Party, held December 27th in the form a formal at Shangri-La, proved equally successful.

After a Rushing Party at Alixe Bures', five new members: Margaret Peterson, Anne McLeod, Frances O'Brien, Mavis Tillisch and Norma Wright, were initiated into the sorority at a private ceremony held at the home of Catherine Walker. An alumnae tea was held later in the spring so that the members could meet the alumnae. The new girls seemed to have recovered from the gruelling initiations and an enjoyable time was had by all.

The annual "Percolated Patter" was not held this year because of the more severe rationing, but we hope to be out next year with colors flying.

Since the "Woodchoppers Ball" has been such a success in the past years, plans were made to hold our annual dance early in June.

The Sorority will close this season with the traditional banquet.

This just about sums up our activities for this year, 1945-46, but in closing we wish to extend best wishes to the graduates of this year and wish them every success in the future.

Kappa Zeta Beta

Colors—Silver and Black

This Sorority, which was formerly known as the Kappa Zeta Bo, was founded in the early spring of 1934 in Central High School. Since that time members have been initiated from St. Mary's and Western High Schools. With the taking in of nine new members this year, the membership has increased to thirty. We have tried to support and co-operate with the school in every way, endeavouring to maintain school spirit by donating "The Gordon Emery Memorial Trophy" to the best all-round Rugby Player of the year. This cup has not been presented since 1939, but we shall see it presented again this year.

This year our activities have been many, from teas to informal dances. The activities of this year began with the "Twilight Tea", followed by the initiation of nine new members. Other social events were a banquet at the Empress Grill, a formal dance at the Palliser Hotel, a slumber party at the home of Marg Marimen, several house parties, a raffle, and the annual "Pie-Eyed Parade", which was held in the Parish Hall.

For the past two years, the Kappa Kappa Tau Fraternity have presented three white sweaters to the outstanding athletes of grades 10, 11 and 12. The sweaters are to commemorate the memory of three Tau boys, well known students of Central, who gave their lives for their country. They are: Joe Dutton, who was killed on a mission over Germany; Tom Barr, accidentally killed in Canada; and D'Arcy Scott, who lost his life at Gibraltar. The three boys chosen as the winners of these awards were: Jack Belkin, Jim Seymour and Bud Milner.

SIGMA RHO BOWLING TROPHY

To stimulate competition in the Bowling Club, the Sigma Rho Fraternity donated a Bowling Trophy to be awarded to the Captain of the winning team. The Cup was presented this year to GENEVIEVE CLARK, Captain of the "Looney Loons".

I WONDER

I wonder how the moon feels when she looks down
And sees wave on wave of planes destroy a helpless town?

I wonder how the stars feel, when their soft rays are shed
Not on pairs of lovers, but on rows and rows of dead?

I wonder, too, how Neptune feels when death comes raining down
From giant birds, to wreck our ships, and cause our men to drown?

And I wonder, too, how our Lord feels when He hears a mother's prayer:
"Please God, I Trust You'll guard my boy while fighting over there."

And please, our Heavenly Father, as we pray for wars to cease
Create in all, a brotherhood that leads to lasting peace.

—Pat Reid.

BREAKING OF FETTERS

Skies are blue and larks on high
Are gliding in the drifting sky,
While down below, strong hands hold fast
And helpless in their steely clasp.
You gaze and wish, but seldom try
To break your bonds, and fly.

But war flung down its glove, and those
Who saw the bloody challenge, rose
With trembling soul, yet fearless eye,
Left peace and safety; said, "Goodbye".
Gave all for country, strong and true
With help of God, rose up and flew.

Cloud to cloud, clime to clime,
Some lived; for some the Sands of Time
Ran out, fell by the wayside and were lost.
Ashes to ashes, dust to dust; this, then was the cost
Of breaking the fetters that bound you tight
So that others might know the powers of flight

And Fly!

—Jim Allan.

Cadets

The Central High School Cadet Corps

During the war, Cadet Corps across the Dominion played an important part in training Canada's Youth, not only for battle but in the qualities of leadership. Now that peace has returned the importance of cadets has by no means diminished. Because of these organizations, Canada will never be caught without an army. A proof of the fact that the spirit of Cadets is not dwindling is the improvement of Central's Army Cadet Corps in the past two years and especially in this year, 1945-46.

Work taken by the boys included: marching, rifled rill, elementary tactics, physical training, signalling, first-aid, small arms training, field craft and map-reading. Instruction was given by Capt. W. J. Hackett, our cadet leader, assisted by Sgt. Wilf Baker, who unfortunately left us in April, and Sgt.-Major Tillisch of the Active Army.

THE CADET BAND . . .

An "extra-something" was added to our corps this year by a very good band. This was organized in January with C/Band Sgt. B. Culkin, training the drummers and C/Cpl. B. Foster instructing the buglers. Those playing the bugles were: C/Cpl. Foster, Cadets Watson, Sharatt, Palmer, King, Johnston, Shaw and McDonald. On the drums we heard: C/Band Sgt. Culkin. Cadets Devlin, Allen, Sinclair, Walker, Williams and Hantho. These players were led by C/Sgt. D. Yearwood. Regardless of the fact that Central's Band has only been organized for four months, it is now rated as one of the best cadet bands in the city and has performed very capably at our parades.

SHOOTING . . .

All good soldiers must shoot well—and Central is no exception. Top shot in the Corps during 1944-45 was our former Cadet Major—Sgt. Wilf Baker. The awards Wilf won were: Special Medal D.C.R.A., 1945; Galer Hagerty Memorial Award, given to the best scorer (i.e. in the sum of) Youth of the Empire and D.C.R.A. shoots for M.D. 13; Best Shot Button (in the corps) for 1945.

Other cadets winning awards are:

C/Capt. H. Buckmaster—Youth of the Empire—Red Star and Rifle—1945.

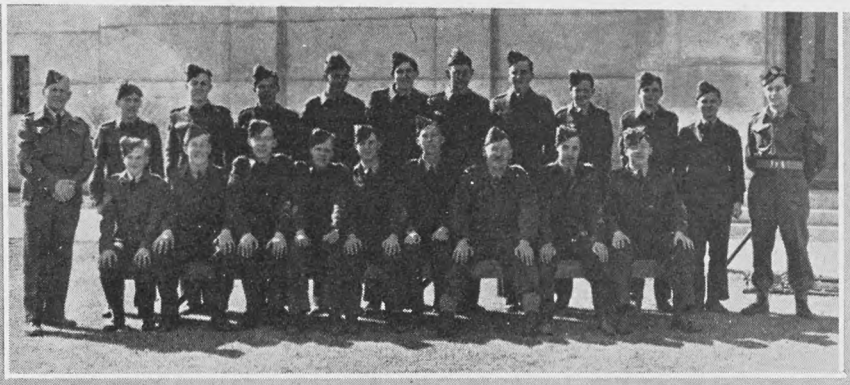

C/Lieut. J. Whitford—Strathcona Trust Medal.

The only medal winner so far announced this year went to Cadet C. Allen, a newcomer this year, who received the "Special Medal—D.C.R.A. for 1946".

In addition to all these, the scores in the Annual Test have been posted. For their shooting, twenty cadets were awarded Crossed Rifles and Crowns while twelve won Crossed Rifles. Taking top honour in this shoot was C.S.M.R. Younger with a perfect score.

During the winter, cadets fired Recreational Targets for various badges: these are First Class, Expert and Marksman; and at time of press many cadets have won all three patches.

SIGNALLING . . .

One of the main side activities carried on by Cadets is signalling. This class was organized by Sgt. W. A. Baker, and after his departure, this job was taken over by C/Capt. H. Buckmaster. Although the class was large in the beginning, some dropped out and the final result was six cadets. The test to prove their efficiency will be written shortly after our Annual Inspection.

FIRST AID . . .

Two first aid teams, under the direction of Capt. W. J. Hackett and C/Sgt. Oliver, were entered in a recent first aid competition for local cadet corps. Although we put up a good fight, we were edged out by a narrow majority by Crescent and Western. For their efficiency, however, the following were presented with Junior Badges: S/Sgt. Oliver, C/Band Sgt. Culkin, C/Cpl. Foster, Cadet Charratt, Cadet Walker.

When a lady's car stalled after the light had turned green, the car behind immediately began tooting his horn. The lady attempted several times unsuccessfully to start the engine, while the traffic kept piling up behind. Finally, when the fellow behind had used his horn considerably, the lady got out and went back to the fellow and said: "I can't seem to get my car started, but if you'd be so kind as to go up and give me a hand, I'd gladly stay here and lean on the horn."

There is nothing obscure or involved about what constitutes good citizenship. Basically it is just another application of the Golden Rule, "Do unto others as you would be done by."

It's not only following the rules and regulations necessary for any body of people to govern themselves, but it is also a lot of intangibles like neighborliness and community spirit. It's a way of living that makes life rich and full of meaning. It's something that gives you the feeling of belonging.

You who are now students will soon be entering into a new phase of life—a life where decisions will be up to you. Citizenship will become more than a classroom word. Make it something that pays you lifelong dividends in self-respect and the respect of others.
